Above are my designs for the Twinings loose tea leaves. Included are the designs for the front and back of the individual teas in this range.

Ive also included my own logo created for each of these along side their respectful pantone colours.

These are my designs for the boxed tea bags as part of this particular Special Blend Range.

The designs follow a similar theme to the above with slight changes to appeal to the more modern consumer as tea bags are usually used by this audience

Over the next few pages, I will present my final assembled packaging including group shots, single shots and close ups.
